

OCTOBER

Hello Kindergarten Character Education Volunteers!

Thank you for taking the time to help our PSE students learn about the importance of their character.

Please remember that the main goal is for the kids to think through and learn about the monthly trait; so, if you don't get through the entire slide presentation or activity that is completely fine. If the kids walk away understanding the character trait, then you have succeeded!

I'm learning right along with you, and I'd welcome any feedback you have on what went well or how we can improve for next month.

Thanks!

ACTIVITY:

The character trait for this month is Dependability/Helpfulness. For the activity, you can gather the kids on the floor in the middle of the tables (if you think it might be helpful).

Please read one of the following books:

The Little Red Hen by Paul Galdone
Arthur's Pet Business by Marc Brown

If time allows, please ask follow-up questions such as "What did we learn about each of the characters in The Little Red Hen? Who would you choose to ask to help you if you needed an important job done? Which character do you want to be like?"
